A fresh dive into new food discoveries

Can't wait for your summer trip?

Me neither! Time to explore the flavors, fragrances, sounds, and colors of London, Cogne, Peru, Milan, Kolkata, and French Polynesia in this newsletter.

We just got back from a fantastic city trip to New York. Soon, you'll be able to read about my incredible experiences and food discoveries in the city that never sleeps.

At the moment, we are packing our bags for our very next trip to Las Vegas and a tour through the deserts of Nevada and California. I'm hoping to return home with new stories about our unusual adventure through the Wild West's abandoned villages and mines. To be continued!

Recipes

Discover Peru's national cocktail, a unique take on the well-loved pasta pesto and two delicious desserts I discovered during my last trip to London!

Pisco sour, the national cocktail of Peru

In this blog I will tell you all about this refreshing drink and how to make it yourself.
